Zarinkelk Engineering Services, Inc.

Structural engineering company

Success Story:

Mrs. Giti Zarinkelk, President and CEO

Zarinkelk Engineering Services, Inc. (ZESI), established in 2001, is a Texas-based, woman-owned consulting engineering firm. ZESI is an award winning civil and structural engineering company with a client base that includes primarily municipal agencies. The firm's technical activities include development and review of PS&E packages, quality control, project advertisement, bidding and project award process services, and construction contract preparation. ZESI, a City of Houston certified Minority, Women, and Disadvantage Small Business Enterprise, also provides designs services during construction including contractor interfacing, attendance at pre-construction meetings, submittal review, review and processing of RFIs, review of proposal modifications and change orders, attendance at progress meetings, site visits, conducting meeting with the Houston Contractors Association, and attendance at and facilitation of public meetings and inter-agency coordination meetings. ZESI's mission is to provide reliability to their clients and deliver excellence in a timely manner.
