CIUDAD DE HOUSTON

Los ciudadanos prestan servicio voluntariamente en juntas, comisiones, comités, consejos, corporaciones y entidades. Estos grupos colaboran fomentando el crecimiento económico, político y social de la Ciudad de Houston. La asociación entre los sectores público y privado es de importancia vital en el proceso de toma de decisiones, el cual es necesario para que el gobierno municipal alcance estas metas. Como miembros de una junta, los ciudadanos participan en el proceso actuando como funcionarios de la Ciudad y estableciendo políticas, resolviendo desacuerdos, ayudando a sus conciudadanos y planificando para el futuro. La Oficina de Juntas y Comisiones de la Alcaldía procura hacer participar a los residentes de Houston dispuestos a ofrecer voluntariamente su tiempo, su experiencia y sus recursos personales, y dedicarse a obtener beneficios para la comunidad. Actualmente, más de 2,000 personas contribuyen para mejorar la calidad de vida en nuestra ciudad. La Ciudad de Houston les agradece su esfuerzo y aplaude su dedicación.
