

Preparing for a Flood

Houston receives an average of 50 inches of rain every year. Here is how to prepare for a potential flood emergency.

Locate your evacuation zones at h-gac.com and stay informed on what places need to be evacuated due to the flood emergency.

Make sure your family has flood insurance if you own a home, rental, and business

Have your parents install check valves in your home to make sure that no sewage water backs up into the drains.

Millions people in the United States live in a flood zone.
A low percentage have flood insurance.
