Tina Marie Salazar

LATINA ARTIST/DESIGNER

September 5, 2024

- Tina M. Salazar is an artist, designer, and sewer who creates home decor and clothes based on her original paintings. Her art reflects her Mexican American culture and childhood memories. Tina inherited her drawing skills from her dad and sewing talents from her mom.
- She attended the Art Institute of Houston from 1985-1987, aiming to be a fashion designer. Tina has extensive experience in restaurant development, having worked in the field for over 17 years as a sign painter and artist.
- She spent 9 years with Landry's Inc., painting for Joe's Crab Shacks, Saltgrass Steakhouse, The Kemah Boardwalk, and most of Tilman Fertitta's properties. Mambo LLC and Pappas Inc. are also among the restaurants Tina has painted.
- Additionally, she has painted and laid gold throughout St. Mary's in San Antonio, with one of her most significant projects being the Co-Cathedral in Downtown Houston, where she painted and outlined crosses in gold 100 ft. above.
- Tina's work has gained recognition, including being highlighted in Voyage Houston. Most recently, her business, LatinaTina, was featured on Houston Life live on KPRC Channel 2.
- Outside of art, Tina enjoys road trips, resting, spending time with her family, and reading. Her Christian art line, 'Virtue,' is featured in the Lakewood Church Bookstore.
- Tina's art and designs can be found on several artistic platforms, including Society6, Redbubble, Amazon, Spoonflower, and her website, latinatina.com. Additionally, her art and designs are available at her store, LatinaTina, located inside of Ironworks at 711 Milby St. #29, Houston, Texas 77023.
- Tina is a proud Latina, born and raised in Houston and attended Stephen F. Austin High School (with Dr. Laura Murillo) in 1985.
