

ACTIVITY #2

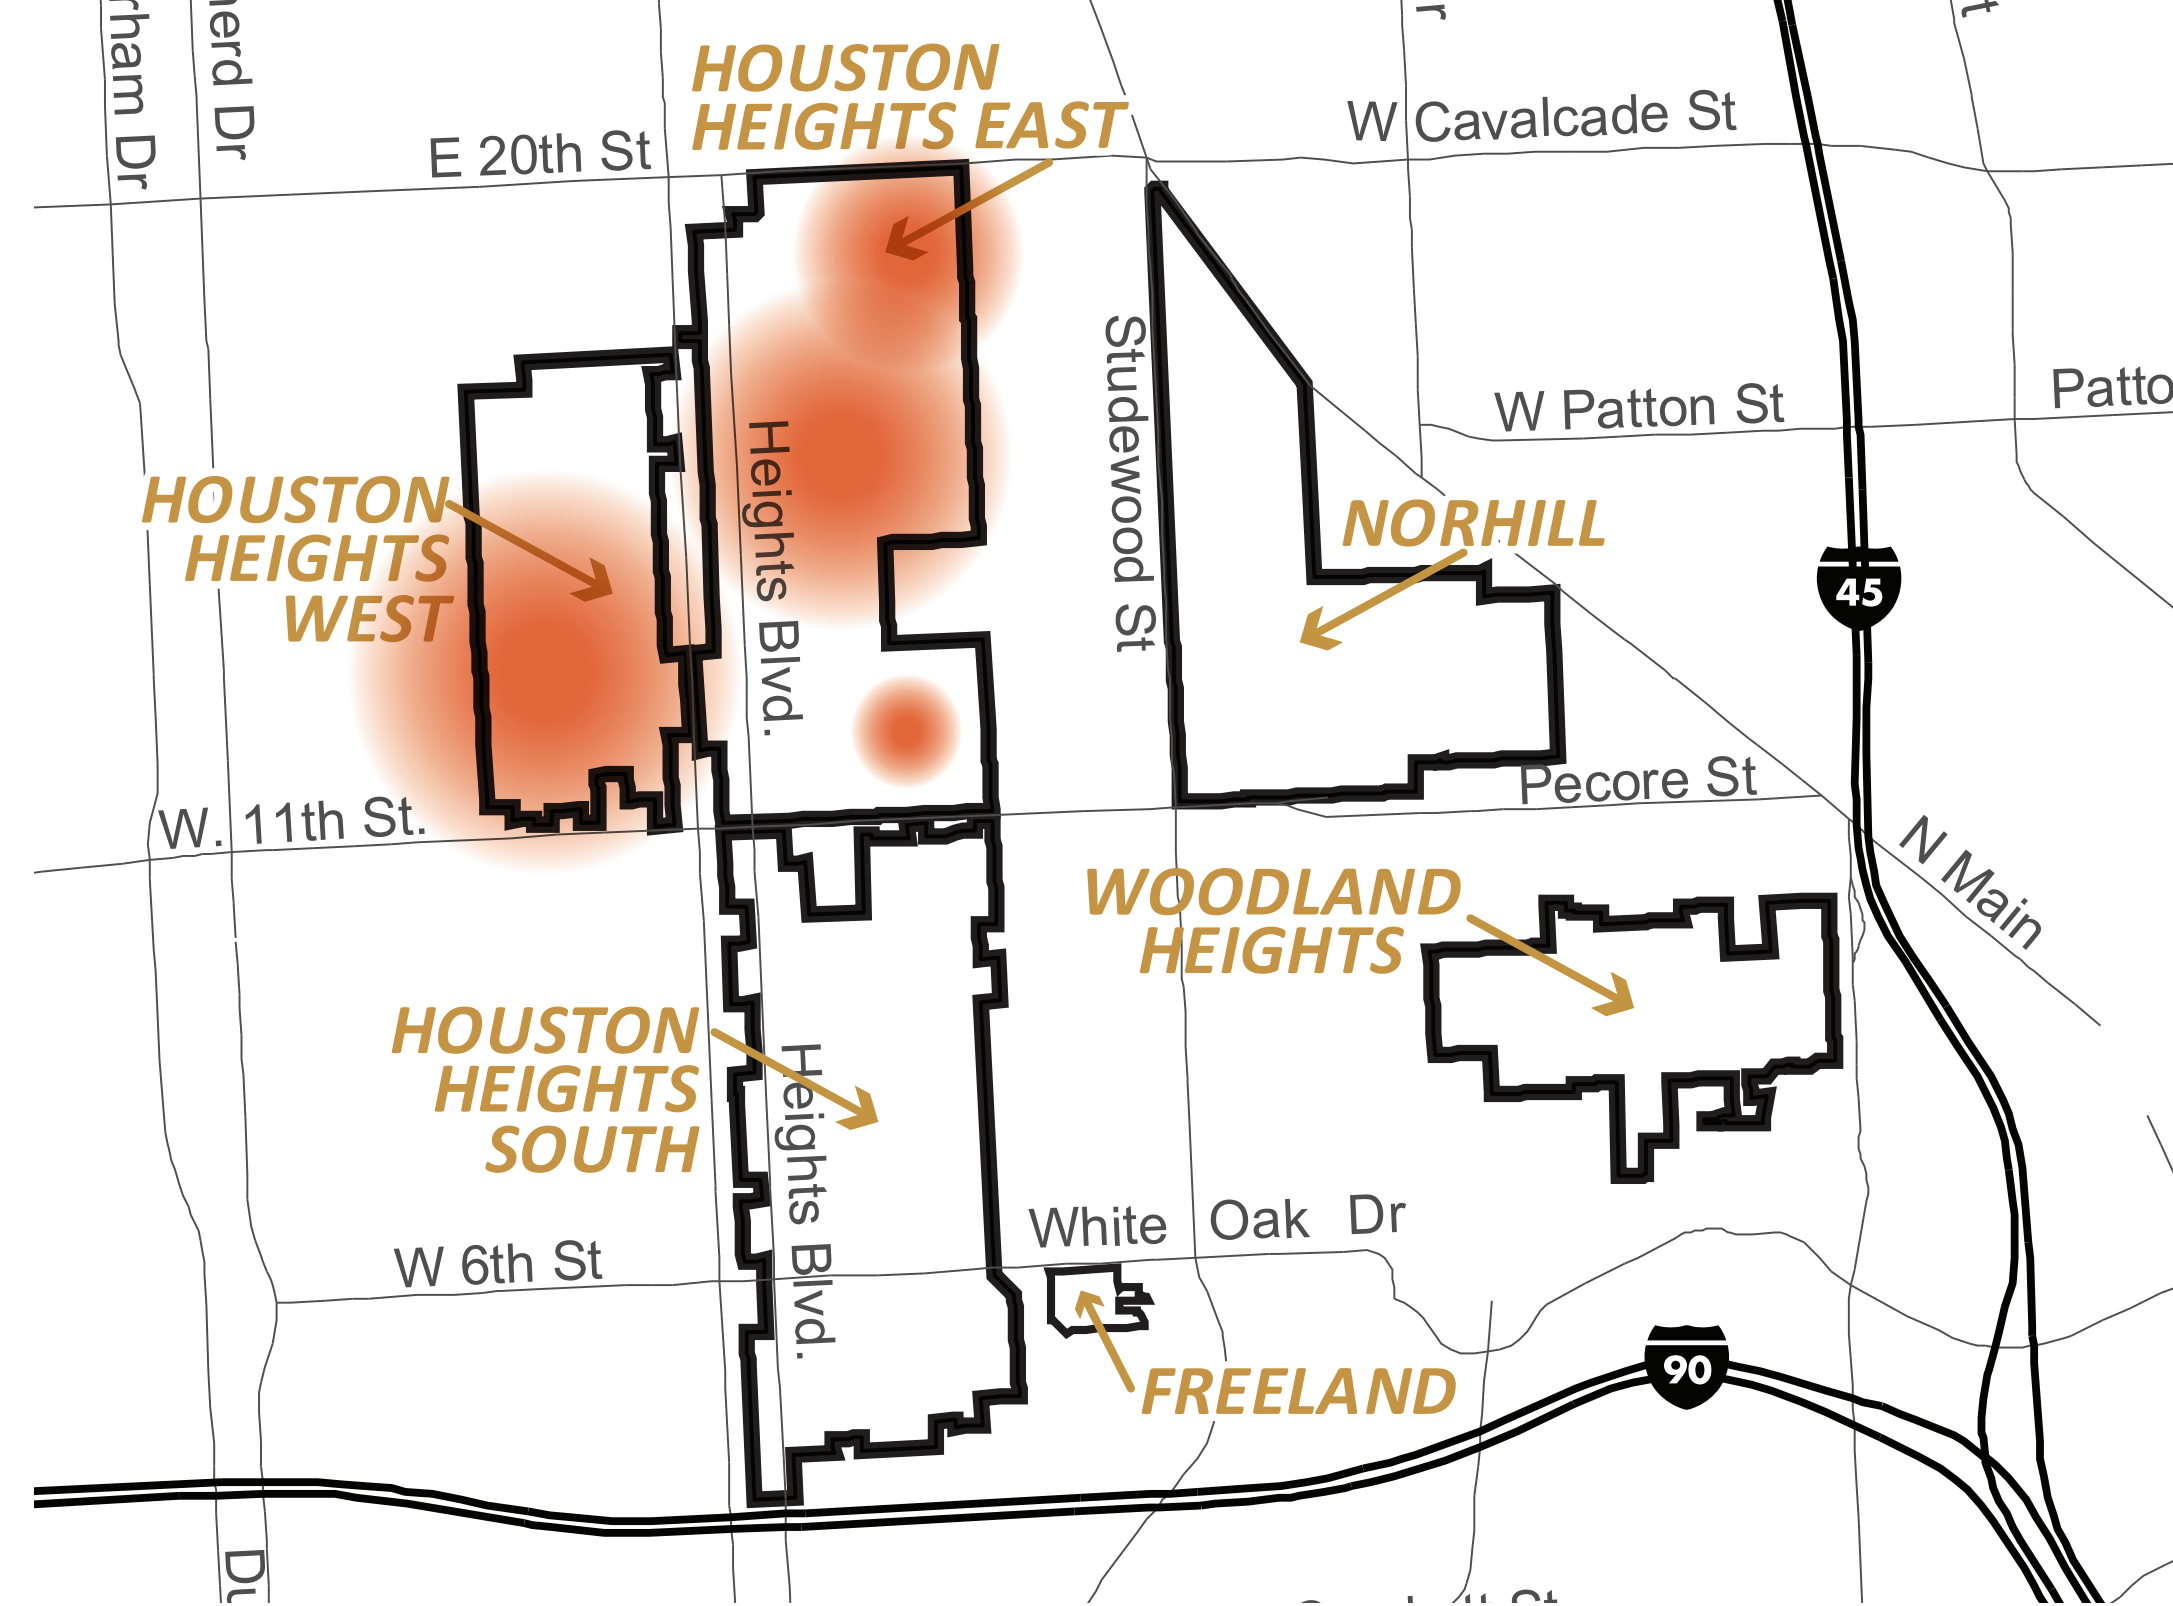

RESIDENTIAL TYPOLOGIES | TYPOLGY LOCATIONS

GROUP 3

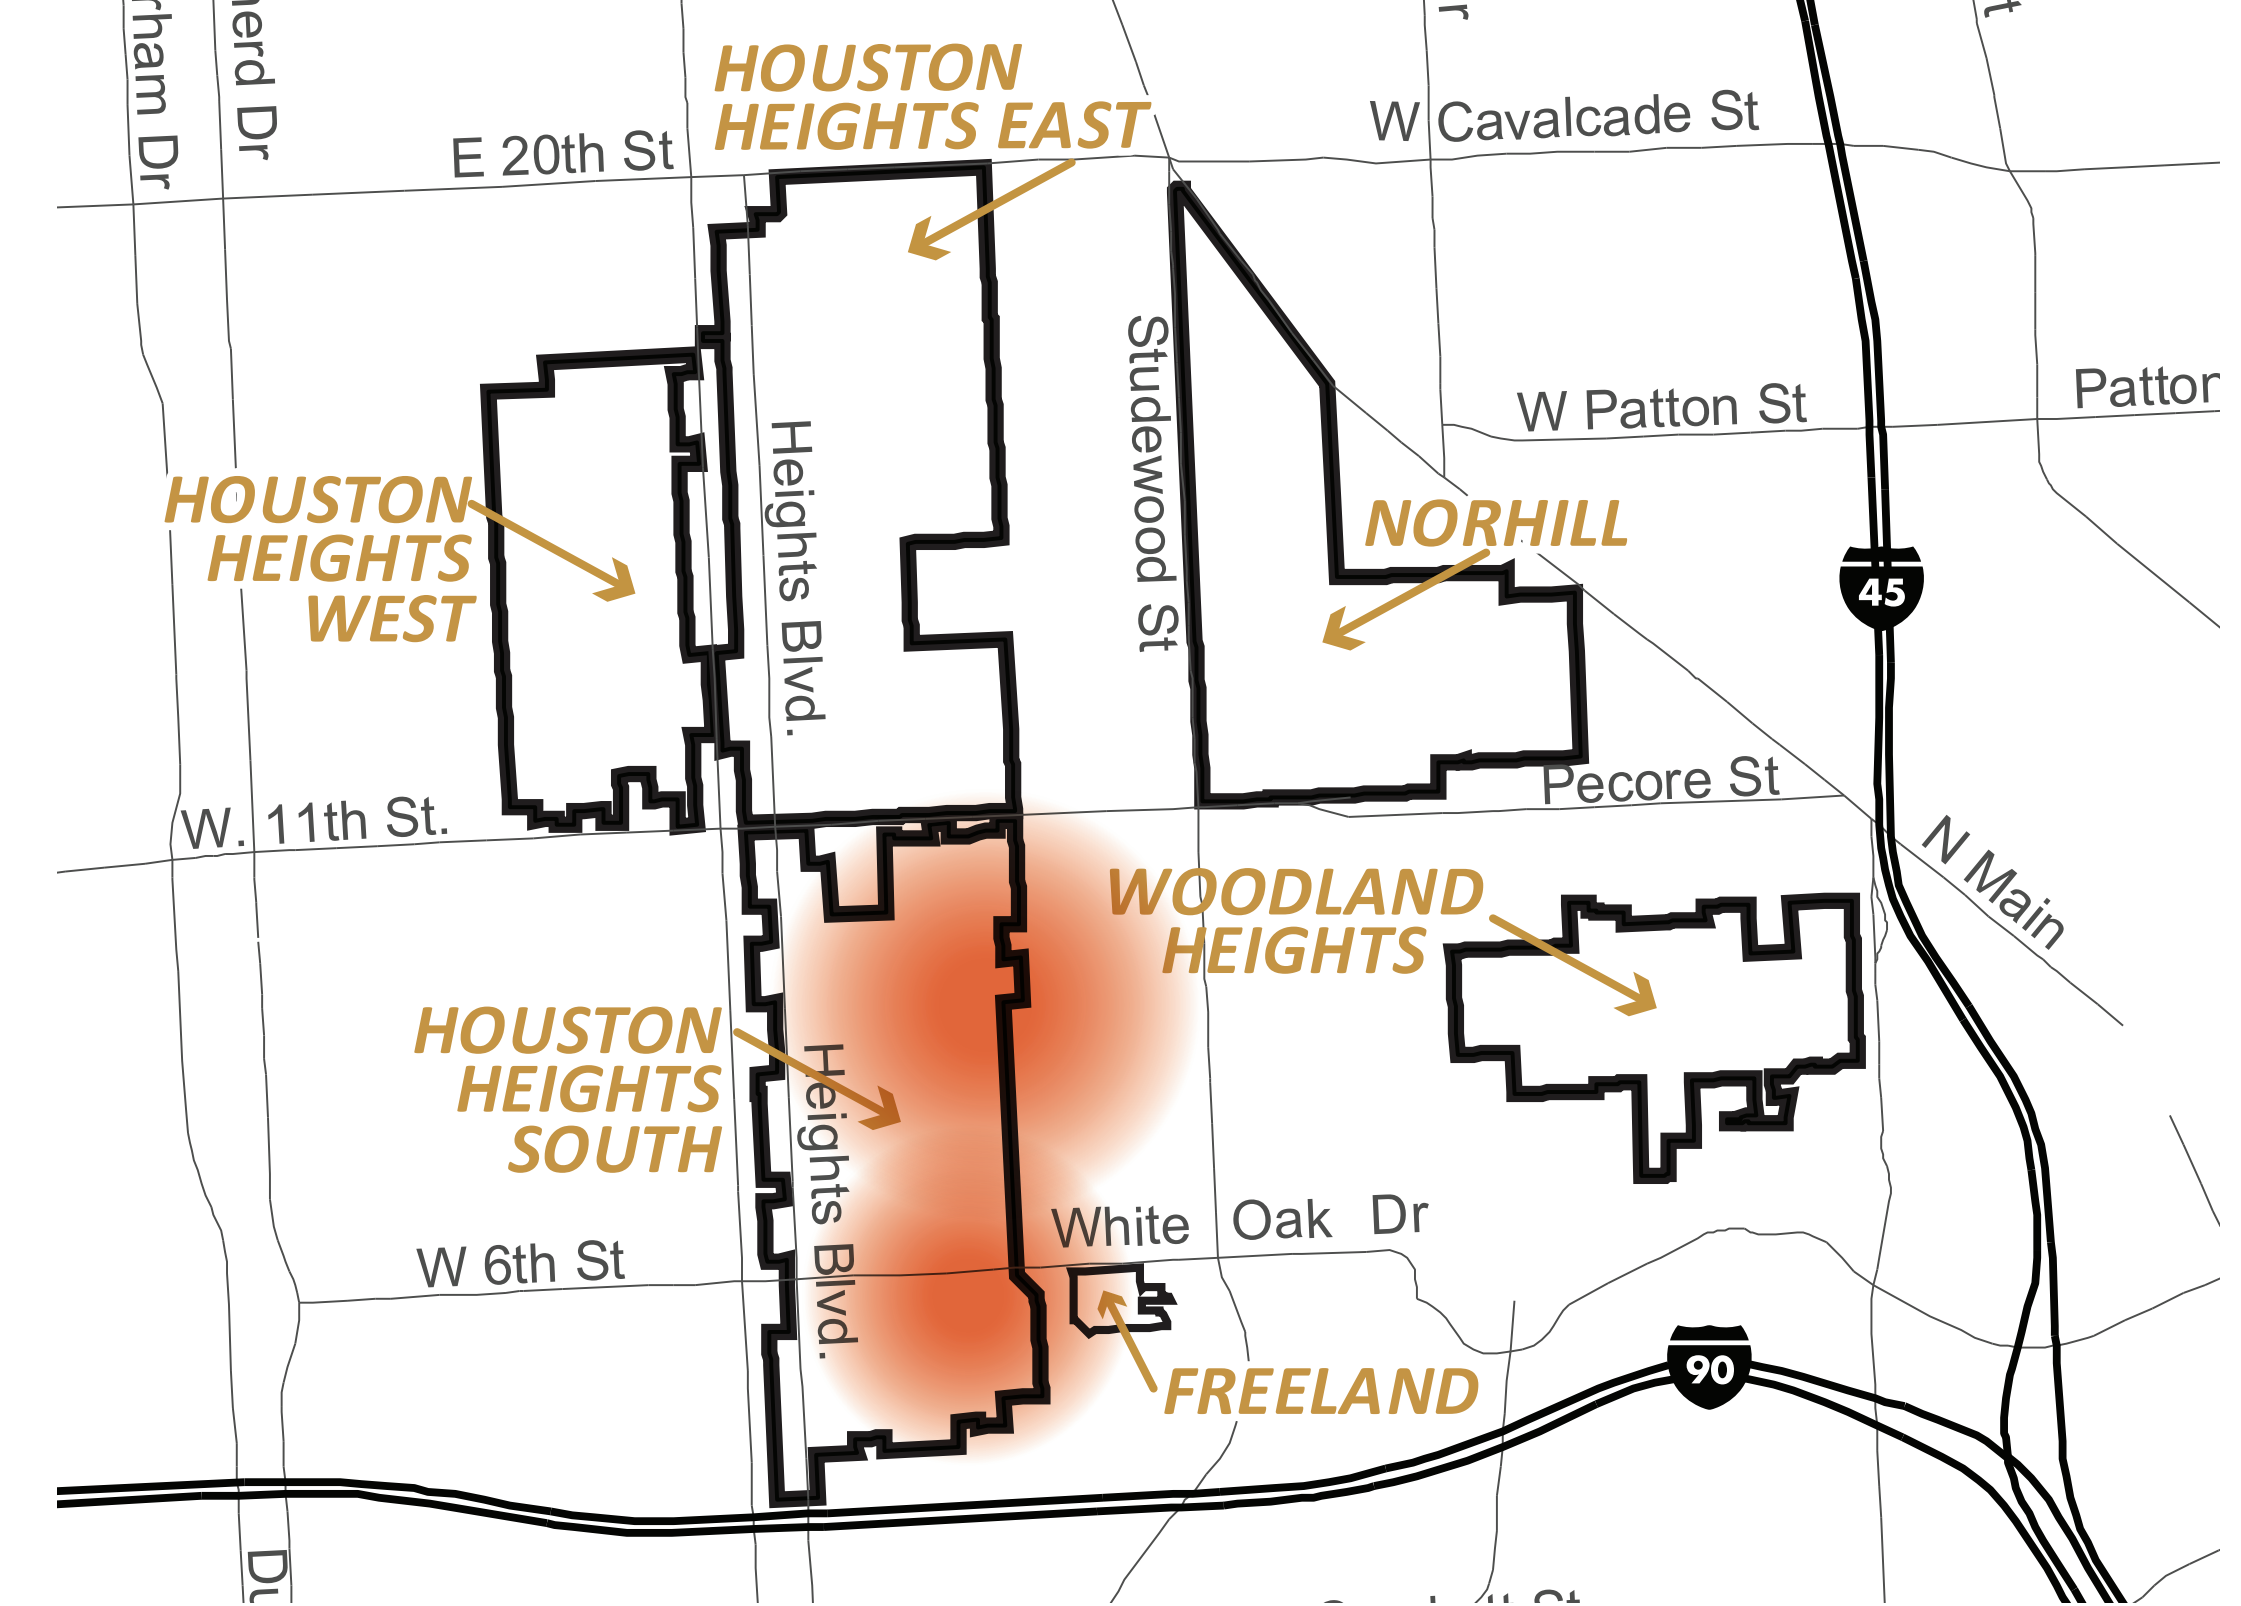

GROUP #3 DESCRIPTION:

This Typology Group has a sequence of four Types, each of which varies in the degree of consistency that exists, in terms of building age and traditional development patterns. Lot sizes also vary by Type, and in some cases by their orientation. The degree of consistency, or variety, in building heights also distinguishes the different Types. The consistency in location of garages also varies by Type. The percentage of buildings that “contribute” to a historic district varies among the four Types. There also are some differences among the Types in the extent to which curb and gutter exists.
